Financial Aid Fraud

Financing your education can be complicated and expensive, and unfortunately scammers will try to take advantage of that. They may offer scholarships or offer to help you apply for financial aid in exchange for fees and sensitive information. Remember, legitimate financial aid is always free and accessible.

Spotting Scams:

- Beware of anyone offering scholarships or financial aid services for a price. Legitimate resources are always free, like the FAFSA.
- Scammers often request sensitive personal or financial information. Never share this information with anyone claiming to offer financial aid.
- Scammers may use personal details or pressure tactics to make offers seem legitimate.

Protecting Yourself:

- Always apply for financial aid through trusted sources like your school's financial aid office or government sites like the FAFSA. You and your family are the only ones who should complete financial aid applications, and you should keep all the information used for those applications private.
- Use reputable databases, and check the legitimacy of scholarships before applying.

If a company attempts to offer a scholarship, grant or financial aid in exchange for a fee or sensitive information, walk away. If you suspect something is a scam, report it to the Federal Trade Commission.

Our phone number seems to be showing up on members' phones as "potential spam". While we always leave a message, you can ensure you don't miss our call by adding Fond du Lac Credit Union as a contact. When returning our call, always dial 920-921-1123.

Debit Card Daily Limits

Debit cards offer a convenient way to access cash and make regular purchases. However, most financial institutions impose daily spending limits on debit cards to protect your account from fraud. This safety measure means that if you attempt to spend an amount greater than your daily limit, the transaction could be denied.

The daily limits per FDLCU debit card are as follows:

- Point-of-sale (POS) transactions: $1,500.00
- ATM transactions: $310.00

If you know you have a large purchase coming up, you can temporarily increase your card limit by stopping in, or call us at 920-921-1123.

TRAVELING THIS SPRING?

Let us know, so that we can put a travel notice on your account! You may also want to consider taking a Travel Money Card instead of using your debit card for added protection.

It can help with budgeting. Sticking to your vacation budget can be tough. Traveling is a time to let loose and live a little, and it can be easy to spend more than you originally planned.

Prepaid cards offer a buffer for your accounts. If you're wary about using your debit or credit card on your trip, a prepaid card can help. While all cards offer some level of fraud protection, it might take time to recover. A thief who gets access to your debit card could do serious damage to your bank account right when you need funds the most. If any kind of theft happens with your prepaid card, the stakes are much lower.
